

CONNECTION

INTRODUCING KINGDOM NETWORKS —ONE NAME, ONE MISSION, ONE COOPERATIVE FAMILY

Seventy years ago our founders stretched party-line copper across Callaway County with a simple goal: make sure rural neighbors could hear one another's voices. That spirit of connection has guided every upgrade we have made since, from rotary dials to multi-gigabit fiber. Today that same cooperative is turning a new page by bringing all of its services—and all of its customers—under a single banner: Kingdom Networks.

For longtime members, the Kingdom name is a badge of trust. For newer neighbors in towns we reached out as Phynx Fiber as a symbol of reliable, locally run broadband. Behind both logos, though, has always stood the same board of directors, the same local team, and the same 24/7 commitment to first-class service. Unifying those identities lets us speak with one voice while keeping every promise you already count on—same great team, same reliable service, same devotion to our subscribers.

Why change now? After nearly a decade of operating separate brands, we realized we were spending too much energy explaining that Kingdom and Phynx were really the same company. Every duplicated brochure and website update took time and energy we could be investing in fiber construction. By streamlining our public face we can direct more resources toward building new routes, upgrading speeds, and answering your calls on the second ring.

The new era starts close to home. Over the next few weeks watch for newly wrapped service vehicles and fresh signage at our Auxvasse headquarters, 211 S. Main Street. You will also see the soft launch of KingdomNetworks.com, a redesigned customer portal that service maps, account tools, and self-service speed upgrades a single click away. When the portal goes live later this month, it will replace the separate KingdomTelco.com and PhynxFiber.com sites—so be sure to bookmark it.

CONNECTION

What will never change is the way you reach us. Our local team still answers 573-386-2241 Monday through Friday, and our technicians still roll from the same shop when an outage alert pings after midnight. If you prefer email, drop a note to info@kingdomtelco.com—you will hear back from a neighbor, not a bot.

Thank you for welcoming Kingdom Networks with the same warmth you have always shown Kingdom Telephone and Phynx Fiber. Your support powers every mile of fiber we bury and every innovation we adopt. We cannot wait to show you what comes next.

RECONNECT 3 UPDATE

If the new brand is the headline, our Reconnect 3 grant project is the action story unfolding just outside kitchen windows. Crews have been hard at work in Fiberhood R6, a 21-square-mile patchwork of farms and homes north of Mexico. Splicing is under way, cabinets are humming, and barring any late-spring thunderstorms we expect the very first homes to go live the first week of June.

Hot on R6's heels comes Fiberhood R3, fanning out north of Thompson. Construction there is running on schedule, and we're pencil in late June for the inaugural speed-test celebrations. Early sign-ups let our planners map every drop in advance, so service can flow the same day the last fibers are fused.

And here's the part locals like best: the drop to their home is on us—no matter how winding the driveway, how long the lane, or how many cattle guards we cross to reach the gate. Kingdom Networks will lay state-of-the-art fiber from the road straight to the doorstep at absolutely no cost.

Warm Regards,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Caleb Pashia'.

Caleb Pashia

CEO/General Manager

